3. Medical Practitioners admitted to the Registered Examining Doctors List are expected to medically assess offshore workers in accordance with the current issue of the Oil & Gas UK Guidelines for Medical Aspects of Fitness for Offshore Work. This application form is to ensure that applicants will likely be suitable to perform medical assessments under the requirements of the Guidelines and therefore only doctors who have adequately completed all sections will be considered for admission to the list.

   Applicants thought suitable to join the list are required to undertake an initial one-day training course. The course is run in Aberdeen, UK, and costs £665 which includes inclusion to the register until 31st December 2016. Applicants progressing to the training course will be sent a copy of the guidelines with the course joining instructions.

4. Applicants will be issued with a PIN number on successful completion of the initial training course. Operating Companies will normally allow individuals to mobilise offshore only if the worker is in possession of a medical certificate signed by a doctor on the registered examining doctors list and bearing a valid PIN number.

5. Doctors on the registered list are required to renew their place on the list annually, by submission of a statistical return of numbers of medicals undertaken and payment of an annual renewal administration fee. Details of renewal arrangements are advised from November onwards each year.

6. There is an annual conference for examining doctors. This takes place in either Aberdeen or London. Examining Doctors are encouraged to attend if at all possible.
