30 April 2020, Ardoe House Hotel

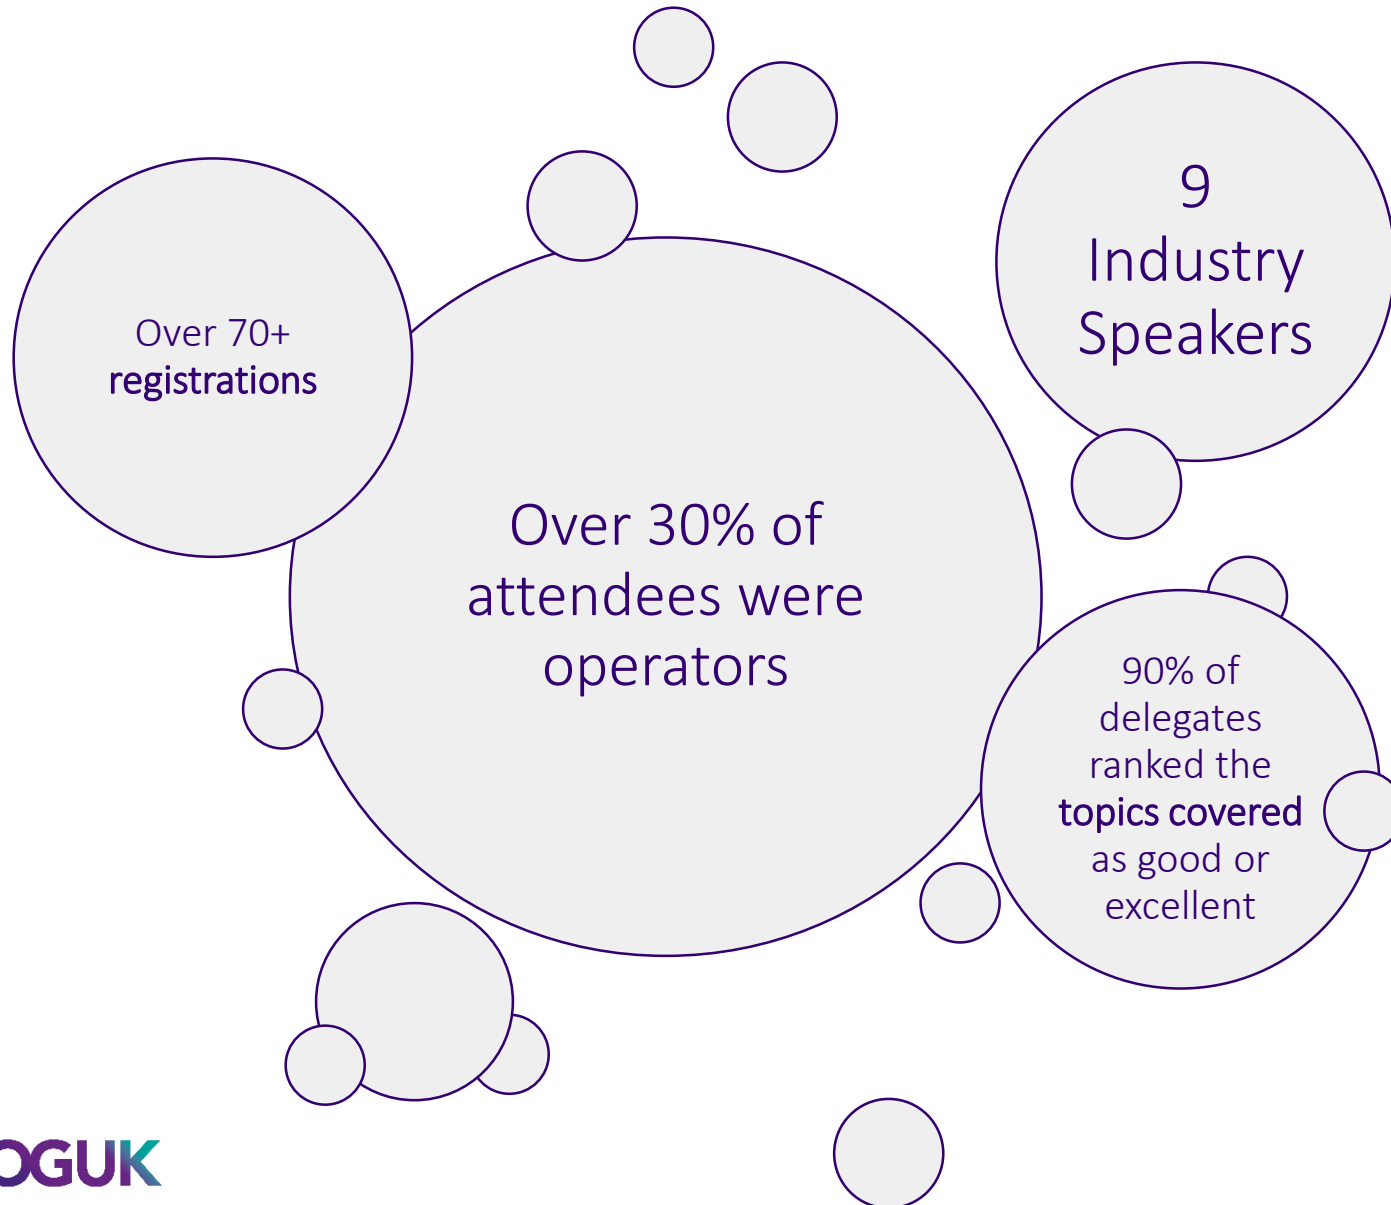

Security Seminar

OGUK is hosting a key security event to allow professionals to network with their peers and engage on the issue of physical security and how it affects individual workplaces.

The half-day seminar to take place at the Ardoe House Hotel in Aberdeen in April will see health and safety leaders, security experts and communications professionals share best practice case studies to help others address their own safety concerns and how to tackle them – enabling our industry to stay ahead of the game on this topical issue.
